From the Desk of St. Francis de Sales

Today's readings exhort us to listen to the Word of God. St. Francis de Sales has much to say about actively listening to the Word of God. Here are a few of his thoughts: Martha was anxious and upset about many things while Mary had no care but to listen to Jesus' words. Our Lord reproved Martha because she was anxious, not because of her care for His needs. She had mixed motives. On the one hand, she desired to serve Our Lord. On the other hand, in busying herself with many tasks, she was anxious to appear as the perfect hostess. Since Jesus wanted Martha to listen to Him as Mary did, one dish well prepared would have sufficed to meet His needs. Our Lord makes it very clear that we must not only hear His words but also listen to them with the intention of making them profitable to ourselves. To profit from the word of God, we must let ourselves be moved by it in the depths of our heart. It is by listening to God's word with the heart that we receive good inspirations. The heart comes alive and ever gains new strength and vigor. However, it is difficult to listen to the Word of God with our hearts when our hearts are filled with anxiety. God is full of care for His creatures, but with peace and tranquility. Yet, our care tends to be anxious. Birds stay caught in nets because they flutter wildly. So it is when we desire to escape an anxiety. Resolve to do nothing that your desire insists on until your mind has regained peace. Gently put yourself in God's hands. Try calmly to moderate your desire according to reason. Our life consists in the today, this present moment in which we are living. Use with care all that is given you. Be free of all other care and leave the rest to Our Lord, who takes tender care of us and will surely provide sufficiently for your needs when you listen to His words and inspirations.

A Family Perspective

In your family don't make Martha's mistake and get caught in DOING at the expense of BEING. Relationships take time to develop and BEING a family can't be squeezed into pre-planned blocks of "quality time". Real quality time is QUANTITY TIME. Cell phones, e-mails, faxes, texts and voicemails can reduce our life to a continual series of interrupted moments, robbing us of the precious time needed to be with others. Listen to Jesus in today's gospel: "You are anxious about many things!" Is He speaking to you today? Quality time is QUANTITY TIME. Martha probably planned to visit with Jesus AFTER she finished cooking and cleaning. Today's gospel is about priorities and warns us not to put jobs, appointments and projects ahead of our family. Relationships take time to develop and raising a family can't be squeezed into pre-planned blocks of "quality time." Real quality time is QUANTITY TIME. Love is not scheduled like an appointment.

Feeling Comfortable with People with Disabilities

Disability is a functional loss resulting from the normal stresses and risks of living. Physical and mental impairments may occur before birth, in youth or adulthood, or as a normal process of aging. Some people still feel uncomfortable around people with disabilities because of a fear of doing or saying the wrong thing. Fears ease with knowledge and a few positive experiences. The following suggestions may help you welcome people with disabilities to your parish, Bible study group, or Rosary Altar Society.

- Treat all people as you want to be treated. Relax when communicating; let common courtesy be your guide. If misunderstandings arise, don't be afraid to repeat yourself or ask others to repeat themselves.
- Encourage participation; personally invite all to share their gifts.
- Offer assistance by asking what is needed, but don't insist if your offer is declined.
- Allow people to do things for themselves, even if it takes longer or results in mistakes.
- Be patient and flexible with time schedules; allow time to attend to personal needs.
- Respect the individual's personal space and auxiliary aids: do not lean against a wheelchair, do not pet a service animal, do not grab an arm to guide, and do not move canes, crutches or walkers out of the reach of the person who uses them.
- Treat adults as adults no matter how severe a disability.
- Always speak directly to a person, not their companion or interpreter. Talk naturally to persons who are non-verbal or use communication devices.
- Recognize and remove obvious barriers; for example, people who are blind need drivers to travel and alternative formats to printed material.

Above all, remember disability is just one of the many qualities that dignifies every human life. Despite individual differences we are all more alike than different. Look for commonalities, then your comfort level, positive interactions; and parish vitality will increase.
